DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, drawn to a method, classified in class 427, subclass 248.1.
- II. Claim 9, drawn to a product, classified in class 428, subclass 411.1+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the method could be used to make products other than electronic devices.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Kevin McKinley on 11 September 2003 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-8. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claim 9 is withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3, 5, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Asaba et al. (5,383,970).

Asaba discloses a process comprising placing liquid droplets flowing in an inert gas medium on quartz plates having through holes (placing a liquid raw material for CVD on parts of a first substrate) and heating the plates to vaporize the material and flowing the material to surfaces of substrates to form a patterned thin film on the surfaces of the substrates by selective CVD (col. 15, lines 11-33, col. 17, lines 35-45, col. 18, lines 40-50, col. 21, lines 15-30, film formation example at col. 23). With respect to claim 5, formation of the silica regions of the substrate as done in the formation example meets the limitations of this claim. With respect to claim 7 the inert gas flow is clearly parallel to at least some portions of the quartz plates.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 3, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 2000-012465 in view of Boudreau et al. (4,746,548).

JP 2000-012465 discloses the claimed process at paragraphs 24-29 of the machine translation from the JPO web site with the exception of disclosure of deposition of a patterned film on the substrate. Please note that placing a liquid on a plurality of parts of a substrate is inclusive of placing the liquid on the entire substrate as is done in JP 2000-012465.

However, because JP 2000-012465 discloses use of the process to form TFTs (paragraph 80) and because Boudreau et al. disclose that fabrication of TFTS involves formation of patterned films and such films can be provided by intervening a mask between a vapor source for CVD and the substrate on which the film is to be formed (col. 1, lines 53-65, col. 2, lines 40-50, col. 6, lines 59-61), it would have been obvious to provide a mask between the first and second substrates of JP 2000-012465 so as to provide a patterned film for forming TFTs because one would have expected this to be effective for forming the patterned films for TFTs.

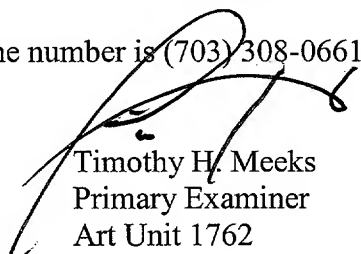

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 6, and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
